EXPERIENCE

Kiffin Ward (Co-owner) is a mechanical and product engineer who has designed and fabricated a wide range of patented parts. He has managed every stage of production from start to finish, including project scoping, design, material selection, fabrication, finishing, quality control, delivery, and maintenance.

Kelly Ward (Co-owner) has over a decade of experience growing small businesses, focusing on strategy, business development, project management, sales, and customer success. Both co-founders acutely understand their customers' needs, as former customers of metal fabrication businesses themselves.
